

All
for children.

the best
the

Clinical genetic scientist 100%

Your responsibilities

- Data analysis and reporting of NGS in the field of hematology, immunology and metabolic diseases
- Analysis, controlling and reporting of G-banded chromosomes, FISH, miarray (CytoScan HD and OncoScan), somatic NGS and PCR-MRD (can be learned on the job)
- Interaction and collaborative work with scientists and physicians
- Performing external quality assessments

Your profile

- Education as a scientist or physician with many years of experience in NGS
- Experience in cytogenomics will be of advantage
- Board certification as clinical cytogeneticist, i.e. FAMH, Fachhumangenetiker:in of the GfH, PCCC, ABMG
- German language is advantageous but not mandatory. However, a commitment to learn German should be made
- Motivation to work in an international team

Further information

Dr. Joëlle Tchinda
Current Head of the Oncology Laboratory
+41 44 266 70 41

Your application

Please send your application including two references via our online portal
www.kispi-jobs.ch